Counterargument

 \mathcal{R}_1 : It is not fair to make assumptions about someone based on their gender.

 \mathcal{Q}_1 : How does the Counterargument refute the idea that all girls like Starbucks?

\mathcal{R}_2 : This text generalizes that all girls like Starbucks and assumes Annie, being a girl, must like Starbucks without evidence. \mathcal{Q}_2 : How does this text perpetuate harmful gender stereotypes and restrict individual expressions?

Goal

 \mathcal{R}_3 : The goal is to make a generalization about girls liking Starbucks based on the assumption that Annie is a girl.

 \mathcal{Q}_3 : What does this text reveal about the speaker's attitude towards girls and their preferences?
